OUR POSITION IS...

The following story is taken from a taped interview between Mr. James Corrigan of the Antioch High School Teacher's Association, and the Antioch News. The purpose of this interview and the one next week is to set forth the position of the Antioch Community High School Teacher's Association and that of the Board of Education in the current impasse which exist in the welfare negotiations.

Next week the ANTIOCH NEWS will present an interview with Mr. Bob Lindblad who will set forth the position of the Board of Education.

The Antioch News: What is the P.N.A. (Professional Negotiations Agreement)?

James Corrigan: The Professional Negotiations Agreement is the Master Agreement or the Master Contract. In simple terms it is the rules and regulations governing the negotiating process.

There's a section on Parties to the Agreement that specifies the board and the association.

There's one on Rights and Responsibilities which refers to both the board and the teachers and governs their professional behavior in dealing with each other in establishing a new contract.

The matter of recognition is covered where the board recognizes the association as the sole and exclusive negotiating representative for all the teachers.

You see it really governs the pattern for yearly negotiations for salaries, and so on.

There's a section here on the Uninterrupted Service Clause, which is the so-called "no strike" clause, which, at this time, puts all the levers in the hands of the board. We didn't like the fact that the IEA (Illinois Education Association) agreed to this (last fall) the way it's written. What it means is that there shall be absolutely no interrupting of service. There can be no strike and, also, if the master contract or PNA is not rewritten and agreed to by the end of the school year, then the terms of this (contract) will continue in effect for another six months. That means that the no-strike clause will remain in effect until the next contract is written. So you can't even theoretically, stay out at the beginning of the next school year even if you don't have a contract.

The Antioch News: What is impasse?

Corrigan: "An impasse occurs after both parties have considered the proposals and counter-proposals of the other party in good faith and when, despite such diligent efforts, no agreement can be reached on the subject being negotiated. During the course of negotiations, the respective committees shall make every good faith effort to reach agreement on all issues before invoking the following procedure" and then the impasse procedure is set up. This year's impasse procedure says that when impasse occurs the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service shall be requested to appoint a mediator from its regular staff. He will then come in and try to mediate the dispute. When you get to the point where both sides are at opposite ends of the pole and further discussion produces nothing but heated tempers and arguments, it's standard procedure to have a mediator come in. A mediator, a go-between, who gets between the two and asks, 'What can we do?' People think this is rather strange. It isn't. It's now standard procedure.

It's human nature, I think, to want to have a problem solved in the best way possible, and when two parties can't see eye-to-eye, it's sometimes possible for a third party to be able to do the job. At least this is what is to be hoped.

There's a ringer in this thing which I'll mention to you. I didn't know about this until yesterday. Both sides must request the mediator, and at this time, the board is going to have a meeting to decide whether or not they are going to join in requesting the mediator.

This is confusing. The master agreement clearly states that when impasse is declared, "The Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service shall be requested by the parties," plural, "by the parties to appoint a mediator from its regular staff." That is in the master agreement, which the board signed and ratified. Now they're meeting to try to determine whether or not they are going to do this.

The Antioch News: What power does a mediator have?

Corrigan: At the present time what we have by way of mediation is nothing but advisory-it's not binding.

Now, there is a bill before the legislature, it's already been passed by the House, that says that binding arbitration shall become the law of the state for all public institutions. Now if this is ratified by the Senate, the mediator will come and the two parties will thrash it out 'til it's acceptable. Then, whatever middle ground exists, that will be it, and the board and teachers will have to accept it because it will be the law of the state.

Currently, the mediator's role is simply advisory.

The Antioch News: Has there been any agreement between the teachers and the board that the teachers will accept the findings of the mediator?

Corrigan: The teachers have gone on record as being willing to accept the final recommendations of the mediator after the mediation process has run its course.

The Antioch News: Just what are the teachers asking for?

Corrigan: The teachers proposed an increase at the first meeting that the board committee said was a more modest request than they had expected. They came back later and said no raises for anyone on the staff. They did say everyone. The superintendent administrative staff, bus drivers everyone. Since they did not alter their proposal from this year's figures, we did not come down on ours. Otherwise, we'd be negotiating against ourselves.

Our position is. . .

Simply, the teachers would be willing to accept an increase that would do ample justice to the increased cost of living. Plus, a reasonable package of fringe benefits and working conditions. In other words, we're not out to break the district.

The Antioch News: Do the teachers basically agree that the district is short of funds?

Corrigan: The IEA accountant said last spring that if this district were still on the accrual system of accounting, the district would show a surplus in excess of $200,000. But, because the school went to the cash system of accounting, they showed, in the spring, that they were just about even.

The situation is tighter than it was, but it does not appear to be crucial.

If you want to know the real reason why finances are tight it's because the people in this district have been notorious for voting down referendums and bond issues. I can't remember when the people in Antioch have supported an educational tax increase. It is our belief that they have never really voted in the funds to run the school. There are very few schools in the state that has a lower tax rate than ours.

People in this district have produced the children which have flooded the schools. They have doubled the school enrollment in 10 years. But, not once during that time have they voted in the necessary funds to take care of the increase in operational costs. They have depended on the state legislature to come in with 'backdoor' referendums.

The board has the responsibility to convince the people of the district of the need for an increase in the amount of revenue necessary to run the school district. Here is where the pinch comes. Not, that the teachers have gotten increases which are out of line with what's going on in this country-but, the fact that the staff has doubled in size in 10 years.

A member of the board negotiating team told me that 'if we have to run that school with 10 teachers-if the academic program has to suffer, it will suffer. The important thing is that we stay in the black!' This is not the way to run an educational system. Because, when you start to do that, it's the kids that suffer.

The Antioch News: Would you say that last year's situation has had any influence, directly or indirectly, on this year's problem?

Corrigan: Now, the reason we hit the street last year was because, and I don't have a copy of the old level III agreement with me, but the essence is that upon entering impasse both sides would choose two professional negotiators who would be called in, and if they could not resolve the problem between them then those two would decide on a mutually agreeable third party who would come in and make a recommendation based upon the arguments presented by the two professional negotiators.

This is the way the thing was written. This is what the board ratified. Now, we ran into an impasse because the board would not okay the index. Well, the index was what we were fighting for so we said bring in your third party. And the board said 'no'. Now, they ratified an agreement that said a third party would come in and make a recommendation. If that third party had come in and said, 'look, the district is in bad shape, you have to drop the index,' we would have gone the route of the professional negotiations agreement and we would have said okay. Because it came as an outside recommendation, we would have accepted it. But, in effect, what the board did was to violate the terms of the agreement which they had signed and, if effect, kicked the teachers right out on the sidewalk.

The fact that the board did not honor the full meaning of last year's level II Agreement made the entire professional staff wary.

(Regarding this year's negotiations) the teachers will, most assuredly, insist upon doing within the bounds of legality to achieve an equitable settlement. We are unwilling to accept an arbitrary statement about finances without going the full route of the impasse procedure as set down in the PNA.

No one likes defeat without going the full route to make sure that no stone has been left unturned to make sure that the picture has been painted accurately.

The Antioch News: Is this problem with the board in any way a contest?

Corrigan: Absolutely not.

The Antioch News: Was the fact of reaching impasse in any way predetermined?

Corrigan: Absolutely not. We were so optimistic after our first meeting that we had (with the board representatives) that we were virtually convinced that things could be worked out this year. We were looking for a very early settlement.

When the board becomes arbitrary, one can't help but wonder if the board is 'spanking' the teachers for having been so "naughty" as to have struck (last Fall).

To the extent that the teachers feel that the board is not doing right by the teachers-and to the extent that the teachers feel that the community is being a bit unfair by voting down a referendum-8 to 1, for example-then, if there is any contest at all it is merely a contest to get the people of the community to really understand where the teachers stand in this total business of professional negotiations. It's not a contest as far as the actual negotiations themselves are concerned. The idea of a contest between the board and the teachers becomes grotesque-that's game playing.

We're not playing games.

The Antioch News: Has Mr. Saunders of the IEA had any part in the teacher's involvement with the board this year?

Corrigan: No. The only thing that Mr. Saunders has done is arranging for the IEA auditor to look at the books. Another thing was I called him to have him explain the proper procedure for filing for the federal mediator.

He is not actively working with the teachers.

The Antioch News: Are the teachers agreeable to another strike-if so, at what point and for what reason?

Corrigan: We don't want to strike now any more than we wanted to strike last Fall. We would not have been out last Fall if the board had not violated the PNA agreement. The teachers still do not like the idea of a strike. I don't like the idea of a strike. Nobody else does. I cannot, at this time, picture a situation where the teachers would go out on strike-unless there is a drastic change in the situation.

The Antioch News: What do you think would cause the teachers and board to settle?

Corrigan: The one thing that could cause a settlement without an outside negotiator coming in would be for the board to realize the full extent of the contribution being made to this school system by the teachers. I honestly don't believe that the board of education has a sound idea, a professional idea, as to the kind of contribution the teaching staff has made to the kids in this community and to the reputation of the school itself. It has been a pretty good reputation. And it just seems to me that they're unwilling to properly remunerate an extremely fine teaching staff. If the board can realize that the simple fact of staying in the black, especially when they are at 'rock-bottom' where the tax level is concerned, is not as important as the on-going quality of the education itself. If they could realize this, then I think the board would be in a position to say, 'yes, now let's see if we can do a little something for the teachers.'

Until something like that happens, I can't see anything changing other than this continuation of beating our heads against each other.

The Antioch News: Do you feel that this trouble we are now having will, unfortunately, become an annual item?

Corrigan: Until such time as there is a change in the philosophy of the board regarding the contributions of the teaching staff or the rewriting of state laws giving teachers a bit more, I have to use this term, it has union overtones, bargaining power. Right now, all the resources are on the side of the board of education. Until one of both of those things comes into the picture, it's going to be terribly rough each year. You have a highly professional group of people who are having to beg for every bit of consideration- monetary or otherwise.

The Antioch News: Has the board of education in any way broken the PNA agreement?

Corrigan: This year, you mean?

The Antioch News: Yes.
Corrigan: Not this year.

The Antioch News: You mentioned union overtones earlier, have the teachers talked or, in any way considered, going union?

Corrigan: I don't know when it's going to happen the IEA and the AFT (American Federation of Teachers), have talked merger very seriously over the past year. Both presidents of the two groups ran on a platform of unification. Such unification would certainly give the teaching profession a bit more of a lever.

I don't believe that the union can make a contribution to the teaching profession from a purely academic standpoint. I think that, what the union can do, is give the teachers a bit more bargaining power. To that extent I don't think there's much value in going plain union-but, if the union and the IEA merged, it seems to me that both of them would become a little bit stronger.

The Antioch News: With the union and the association, on a national basis, moving closer together toward a union type coalition will this in any way detract from the term 'professional' teacher?

Corrigan: When you talk to a board of education about the professional teacher or the dedicated teacher, they think of one who is willing to work without adequate remuneration. As soon as a teacher asks for money he becomes an unprofessional teacher. The board asks, "Whatever became of the dedicated teacher who was willing to accept what could be offered?" To them this is dedication. Such a situation undermines the morale of the staff to the point where the district is going to go down the drain. Unless they're willing to provide enough money to attract good people into this profession. When someone on the outside looks in and sees the teachers asking for more money right away they think that this is greediness. What they don't realize is that when you have a highly paid profession it cannot help, in the long run, but lure more competent people into the profession. It's common knowledge that highly competent people have gotten out of the profession for a variety of reasons, but mainly because they found out they could make a lot more money somewhere else. Until the people in this country realize that the desire to have the remuneration kept in line with the service rendered is not an unprofessional attitude-then the sooner we're going to have a healthy situation in the educational field.

Now back to the union. The union is in a position to help in the matter of professional remuneration. If that can help to keep competent people in the profession, or can bring more competent people into the profession, then the union has provided a definitely professional service. This is where the union can be a valuable thing.

The union is not highly sophisticated in the area of specific educational needs, although, I think they have been working in that direction.

Somehow, when the teachers try to do something positive about their remuneration they are labeled unprofessional. You realize as well as I do that if the doctors in this country were suddenly to be paid through taxation, you'd have a war, you'd have people dropping out of the medical profession-unless they couldn't do anything else. Do you have any idea how the doctors would storm if their fees were decided by the whim of voting public?

When our professionalism is dependent on a board which thinks more of black ink than high level education, and upon people who will not vote the necessary taxes to educate the children they have flooded the school system with-then the situation becomes very one-sided. If (the union) can help get the salaries up to the point where we can maintain a competent staff, then there is an argument for the union.

Our Congressman

FT. SHERIDAN TO STAY

Congressman Robert McClory (R-Ill.) has learned from "reliable sources at the Pentagon" that a staff plan has been prepared recommending 'Backfilling' the facilities at Ft. Sheridan vacated as a result of the consolidation and removal of Fifth Army units to Ft. Sam Houston, Texas.

The so-called 'backfilling' plan includes utilization of Ft. Sheridan by active and reserve activities-units already in the Chicago area as well as the transfer to Ft. Sheridan of other appropriate activities and units.

According to information received by the 12th District Congressman, all of the permanent facilities at Ft. Sheridan would be fully utilized as well as 90% of the temporary installations.

The staff study envisions a permanent emplacement at Ft.

Sheridan of 1,258 military personnel and 1,340 civilian personnel. These personnel are in addition to military dependents now at Ft. Sheridan.

In addition, the staff plan calls for the use of Ft. Sheridan by students attending service school at Ft. Sheridan on a temporary basis in support of Fifth Army activities.

Congressman McClory explained that the 'backfilling' plan which is nearing final approval is in lieu of an alternate proposal which contemplated the vacating and abandonment of Ft. Sheridan as a military post. Congressman McClory stated that he is not at liberty to disclose the source of this report pending the final decision. The Congressman added:

"I fully expect that the plan to retain Ft. Sheridan as a military post for the many important missions which it performs for the active and reserve military forces, as well as for servicemen and their families, will be approved and will receive general public support. The transfer of additional units to Ft. Sheridan will provide the full utilization of which this historic base is capable."

The impending Pentagon action comes shortly after the formal resolution of the City of Highland Park urging retention of Ft. Sheridan. The American Federation of Government Employees, the Association of the U.S. Army and many other civic and public groups and officials have pledged support for Congressman McClory's efforts to keep Ft. Sheridan.

Wilderness Preserve

In addition to the promised student educational value, the preservation and development of the natural wildlife on the Antioch Upper Grade School site appears to be an extremely worthwhile project for community participation.

More than just an educational facility for the youngsters, this proposal involves inviting townspeople with a flair for some area of nature study to share their knowledge and enthusiasm with the students. Sportsmen and ecology clubs can involve more people in their projects while also utilizing the site for their enjoyment.

Perhaps we will eventually have a nature demonstration center benefiting our community as well as many others by our preservation and display of wildlife.

In our world where ecology is so much a part of our lives, the Upper Grade School site will offer an area of learning, preservation and beauty.

Most important of all, optimum educational usage of the area includes introduction of preschoolers through high school age to an advanced awareness of nature, often missed in the classroom.

The land planners not only offer a long term full preparation of the land itself, but also include a teacher training plan; thus, our youngsters would develop an intelligent awareness of the world around them and of the ecological problems of today.

Development of the Antioch Upper Grade School site promises to be a project which will gradually become a more and more fruitful part of our community.

VILLAGE BOARD

Sewer lines (new and faulty), building complaints and requests, clarification of towing policy, trains running too fast, glorified burglar alarms, and the annual appropriation made up a full evening of business for the Antioch Village Board at its regular meeting, Tuesday evening, July 6.

A low bid of $7,506.25 awarded the contract to install a storm sewer from the Pickard Company plant to the Antioch Lumber Co. to C & I Construction of Kenosha. It is hoped that construction will begin early to alleviate, as quickly as possible, the flooding problems at Pickard.

Another water problem exists on North Avenue near Gary's Drive due to an apparently faulty storm sewer. The village plans to take action to make the original sewer contractor fix the problem or the village will condemn the line and fix it themselves. Either way, the residents of the area are assured the problem will be solved.

Alice Cunningham came before the board to clarify her request for two building permits in the Village Green Subdivision. After some corrections were made the permits were issued.

A request regarding permits to build apartments was submitted by Merrill Cunningham but no action was taken at this time.

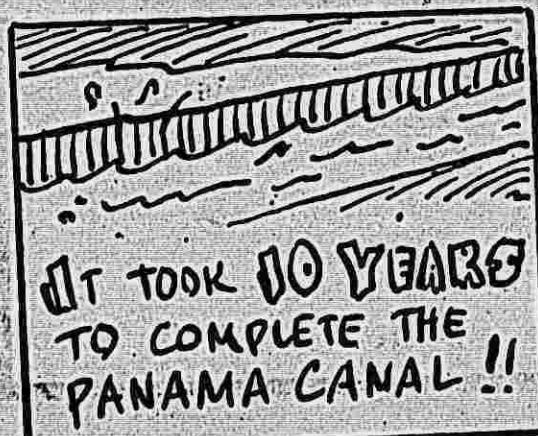

A complaint was brought before the board by a Mr. Gilmen regarding a home being built in Oakwood Knolls by the H&B Builders. Walter Delany, village building inspector, was directed to investigate the charge.

The operator of Bill's Service Station requested clarification of village policy regarding towing calls made by the police department. Police Chief Jack Davis was asked to see to it that, unless a specific towing request is made by the parties involved, such towing calls be divided among the various wrecker services as equally as possible.

It would appear to at least one citizen of Antioch that the Soo Line trains pass through the village too fast. A question was raised as to why such excessive speed was necessary. The board directed its attorney to write to the Soo Line advising them of the complaint and requesting clarification of the railroad's policy.

George Bartlett proposed a special alarm system which would allow local businesses to tie directly into a control board at the police station. There would be an initial installation charge and a monthly service fee. The suggestion was turned over to the village attorney for study.

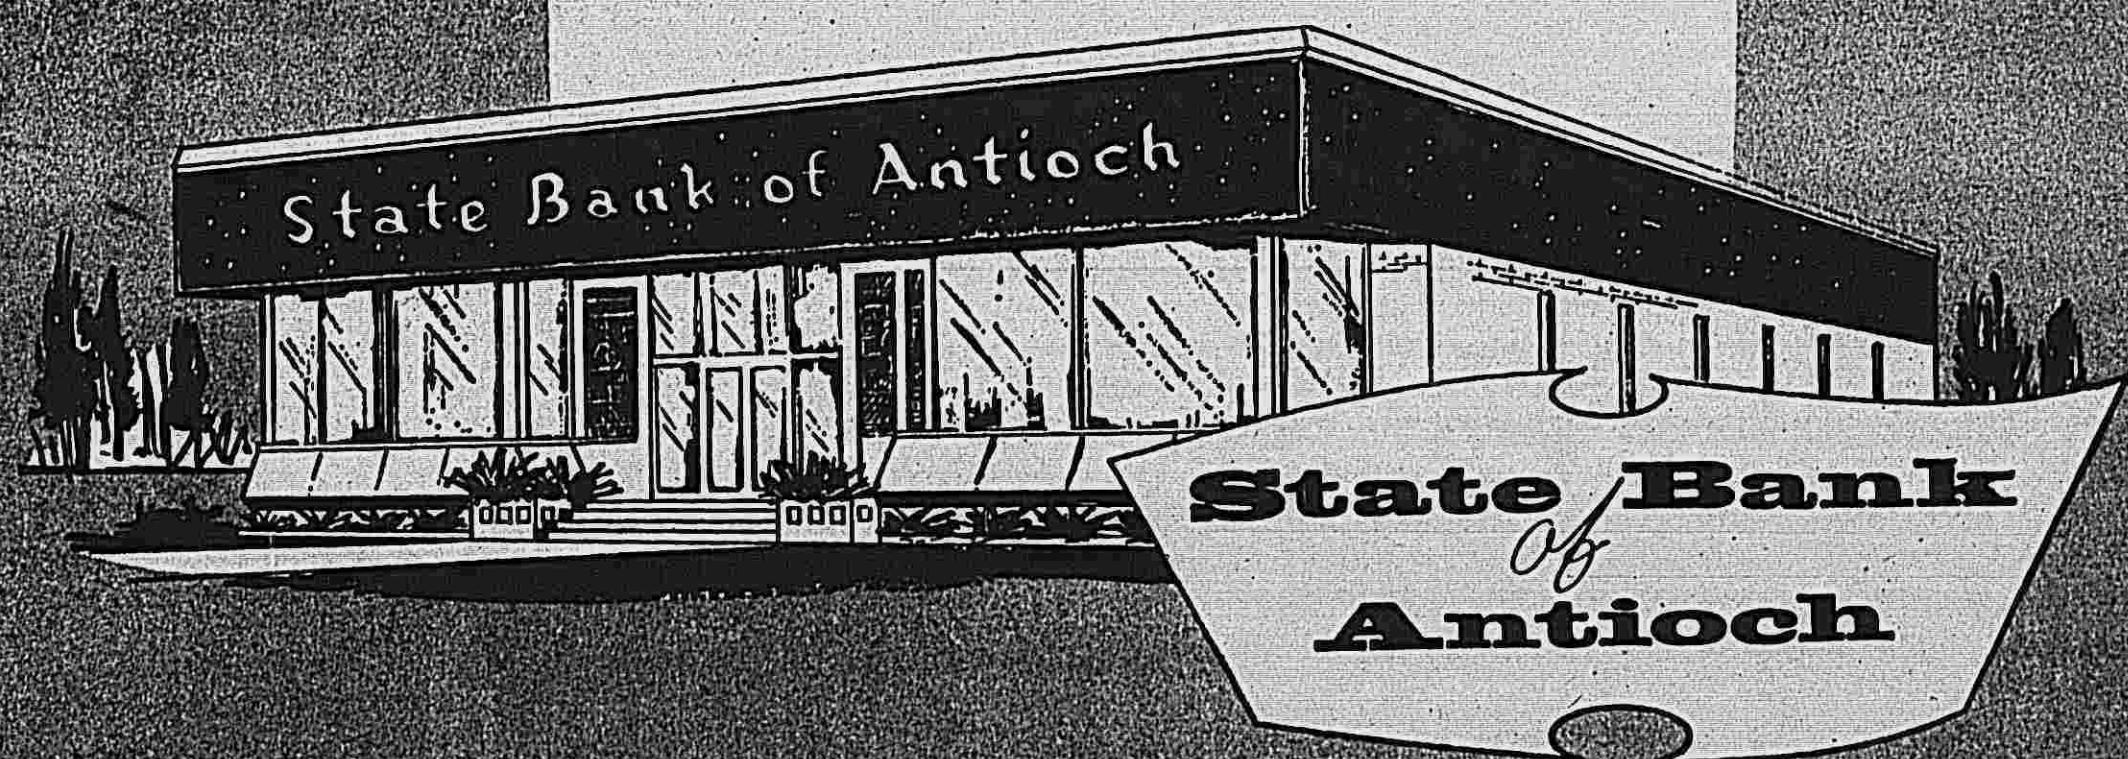

The first reading of the annual appropriation was presented to the board. After the report has been studied and revised by each village department the second reading and approval of the $638,850 budget will be acted upon.

Generation Gap

by Karen Sheehan

Just happened to be out at Ravenswood YMCA camp to visit some friends that I go to school with at Cornell College that are working there for the summer, when I was "introduced" to KAREN SCHLEUSENER who's working there too. What do they say about a small world? If the kids at camp don't tire her out too much, Karen will be going back to St. Olaf College in Minnesota as a sophomore in Nursing.

Also able to band-aid a knee out at the YMCA is CYNDIE SCHLEUSENER, Karen's older sister. Cyndie is getting her nursing degree at Illinois Wesleyan in Bloomington where she'll be a junior this fall.

CAROL WESTLUND doesn't make it back to Antioch too much. She's busy finishing up at Michigan State in three years. Right now Carol carries 16 hours at the University of Illinois Chicago Circle Campus and then she'll return to Michigan State in September. Next spring Carol will graduate with a psychology major and continue on to graduate school. Whew!

After a two-week vacation at home DIANE JENSSON recently returned to Lutheran General Hospital School of Nursing in Moline. Diane has finished one year and has another year until she graduates and becomes a Registered Nurse in June. Since the only vacation Diane has left is one week at Christmas, she doesn't get home very often either.

Presently working for Dalgaard's Certified Super Market, JIM DALGAARD will leave for two years active duty in the Navy in November. This spring Jim received his associate degree in Business Administration and Management at Northwood Institute. Jim will either enter "A" School at Great Lakes or he may go right out to sea.

Lindholm and Stroner unite in matrimony.

On June 5 at Redeemer Lutheran Church, Reverend Loren Trapp united Diana Lindholm and Richard Stroner in Holy Matrimony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Lindholm, 3116 3 Miles Road, Racine Wisconsin, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Stroner, Antioch.

The bride's gown of white organza was reminiscent of the turn of the century and was accented with imported Swiss braid. A Chanel bow held a sweeping mantilla train which was edged with braid also.

Vicki Sherman of Milwaukee was the maid of honor. She was attired in a candy apple green gown.

Bruce Knutson of Antioch was the best man.

A reception was held at Racine Motor Inn.

The couple will reside in Lewiston, Montana where Mr. Stroner is stationed with the United States Air Force.

they are usually cheerful, and their favorite pastimes include games and the theatre.

These traits, however, if overstressed, can lead to insistence on being "number one," refusal to be content with second place, and a desire to maintain leadership and make no changes. Excessive emphasis on power may develop.

Their flower is the orange gladiola, their stone the ruby, and domineering ways their main trait.

SOCIAL NOTES

by Del Jahneke

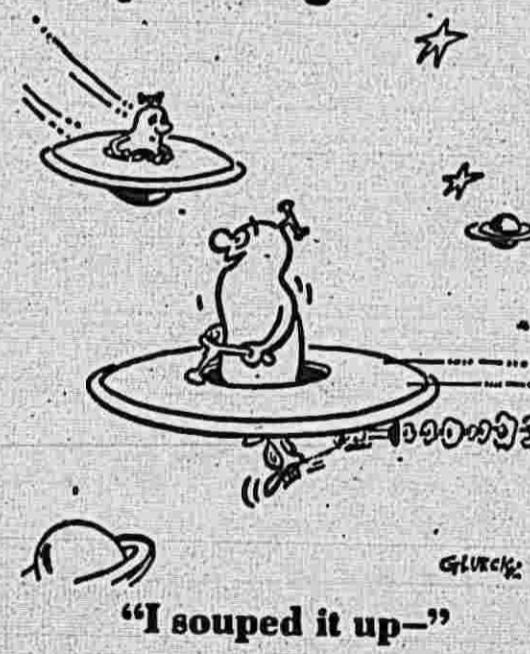

A Sunday July 4th picnic cook-out was held at the John Handschiegel home, Grass Lake Road, Antioch, for some fifty friends and their families. Plenty of good food, fun and frolic for young and old alike were enjoyed by one and all!

The senior Ed Jahnekes, Beach Grove, had the sorrow of seeing a loved one laid to rest on July 8th at the LaGrange Cemetery. Mrs. William Gauger of LaGrange, Mrs. Jahneke's aunt was 87 years old, and had been an invalid for the past four years. However it was mingled joy and sadness as they saw family members and friends they hadn't seen for many years.

The Bernard DeVries family, North Avenue, Antioch, spent the July 4th weekend at Sparta Wisconsin seeing Bernie's parents the Sam DeVries. They also visited with the Tom DeVries at La Crosse. Barbara and Kathy DeVries, daughters of Tom, accompanied the Antioch DeVries back here for a little vacation.

A big family-style picnic was held Sunday, July 11 at the Elmer Justin farm in McHenry for the Model A Car Club members. Some 31 families in Antioch own Model A's with one family having the distinction of two Model A's in their midst, the John W. Horans, 499 Orchard St. and their Son John A. Horan now residing in Gurnee.

New Deductions

This week saw the addition of two new female citizens for Antioch. A first child, a daughter, was born to Mr. and Mrs. James Glenn on Sunday, July 11. Elizabeth Ann arrived at Victory Memorial Hospital weighing in at 6 1/2 lbs.

Grandparents, all from Antioch, are Mrs. Sylvia Erbach and Mr. and Mrs. E.H. Glenn.

Gigi and Jim Spittle are the proud parents of a baby daughter. Their little pink bundle weighed in at 9 lbs. 9 oz. and measured 21 inches long when she arrived at Victory Memorial Hospital at 9 a.m. on July 12.

Stacey Lee's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. George Palaske of Antioch and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Spittle of Lindenhurst.

Macrame is like magic in the surprising effects it gives. But, of course, it isn't really magic. Anyone who can tie a knot can do it because macrame is the art of tying knots. Many knots are tied to form patterns or designs in the string or cord. When the whole piece is done, it can be used as a belt or headband. Many knotted pieces can be put together to form wall and window hangings, other useful decorations and fashion accessories.

String or cord is used for macrame. They are available most often only in white, so for color variety, dye them. Mix 1 package powder or 1/2 cup liquid Rit dye into 1 quart very hot tap water. Add string or cord all at once or make a skein and rotate in dye. When a shade darker than desired color is reached, remove and rinse thoroughly then dry. (Colors appear lighter when dry.)

For a first macrame project, follow these directions for a unique but easy belt. The pattern is made from a series of square knots. Begin with two lengths of dyed string or cord cut 6 times the waist measurement. Place both cords together, ends even, and secure both at center with a tack or heavy weight. Separate the cords; there will be four. Number them 1, 2, 3 and 4 starting from the left.

CREATIVE CRAFT

Macrame Magic

In the first step to the square knot, bring cord 1 straight across over the cords 2 and 3 and under cord 4.

Next bring cord 4 under cords 2 and 3, then pull over cord 4 up and through loop formed between cords 1 and 2. Now repeat this step but starting with cord 1, now on the far right. This will form a square knot. Pull outer cords tight to finish knots. The two center cords (2 and 3) will remain in the center for the whole belt length.

Make the first square knot about 2 1/2 inches from the secured center point. Continue making these square knots, about 1 1/2 inches apart, until it measures desired waist size. Finish with a double square knot. Cut cord ends to even lengths. Slip ends through beginning loop to close belt. Tie a knot at the end of each cord to prevent fraying. To make knots extra tight, thoroughly wet the belt, then allow to dry on a flat surface. Knots will tighten as it dries.

Christian Science Churches

Why the works as well as the words of Christ Jesus can mean so much to people will be brought out at Christian Science church services Sunday in a lesson-Sermon entitled
"Life."

The healing of the nobleman's son will be included in the Bible readings.
The account concludes with these words: "So the father knew that it was at the same hour, in which Jesus said unto him, Thy son liveth: and himself believed, and his whole house."

One of the citations from
SCIENCE AND HEALTH WITH KEY TO THE SCRIPTURES by Mary Baker
Eddy states: "Jesus established
what he said by demonstration, thus making his acts of higher importance than his words. He proved what he taught."

Services begin at 11 a.m. at
First Church of Christ, Scientist, Beacon Hill, Rte. 173 and Harden, Antioch. All are welcome.

Republican Men, Women Busy

The Antioch Township Republican Club will hold its monthly meeting on Wednesday, July 21 at Paty's
Lounge at 8 p.m.

On the agenda will be the golf outing and Award's Night Dinner to be held Sept. 29 at the Antioch Country Club.

The Women's Auxiliary will finalize plans for the picnic for the wounded veterans of the Vietnam war to be held at the Arbor Restaurant on August 4.

The music of THE FANTASTICKS to be presented by PM&L July 23,
24, 29, 30, 31 at the PM&L
Theatre, 877 Main St., Antioch runs the gamut of expression. It will leave audiences with tunes they'll be humming or whistling and can't get out of their heads.

The wistful "Try to Remember" sung by El Gallo (Lloyd Pedersen), and the melodic "Soon It's Gonna Rain" done by Matt and Luisa (Jim O'Connor and Dina Fabry) are two of the best known songs from the show.
"Never Say No" and "Plant a Radish" sung by the two fathers (Al Ramsay and Tom Hausman) are complete with humor and wit and a little soft shoe put in for good measure.
"It depends on What You Pay" and the "Rape Ballet" are full of action and rampageous tempo.

A "Fantastick" show

The pit combo playing all the delightful music written by Tim Jones and Harvey Schmidt is a very young group of accomplished musicians.

The two pianos are played by Tracey Teltz from Lake Villa and Becky Montooth from Antioch. Tracey will be a junior at ACHS this year, played for the "Wizard of Oz" and is pianist for one of the high school lab bands. Becky

Montooth is the PE teacher at the Antioch grade school and a graduate of North Central College where she began as a music major but switched to PE.

John Caldwell from Duck Lake, Ingleside plays flute. He will be a junior at Grant High School and active in all band activities.

Nick Baldassano from Lake Villa plays drums. He has played with numerous combos, but this is his first time in a musical.

Behind the entire show is a very active technical crew that is essential for any theatrical production.

The set was designed by director Ken Smouse.
Production manager and stage manager is Nancy Eberman.
Nancy Petter is assistant stage manager. Business manager is Dr. Al Bucar.

Public relations and publicity are being handled by Fred Holbert, Betty Smouse,

and Gerry Petter. Lighting crew is Kenn Nelson, Betty Waters, John Stringer, and Gerry Petter at the helm as chief rigger. House manager is Gloria Holbert. Ricky Apostol is in charge of ticket
reservations.

In the very important role of choreographer is Suzi Burns who began with PM&L this year. She played the lead in "Barefoot in the Park", acted in a one act play, did the choreography for the "Wizard of Oz" at ACHS, has done
choreography for the Zion Pacemakers, and has a dancing school of her own in Fox Lake,
her home.

Tickets for THE FANTASTICKS can be purchased at the State Bank of Antioch, The First National Bank of Antioch, at the PM&L

CUB SCOUT PACK 192

Pack 192 started its summertime activity program by participating in the annual Memorial Day Parade. The proud bearers of the flags-Jerome Kennedy and Bobby Kelley, were ably accompanied by Richard Becker, Dan Whitney, John Freese, David Berchtold, Tim Haviland, Shawn Lorenz, Mike Ruggles, Ken Golonka, Scott Kirby, Keven Sheppard, Mike Connors, Kevin Nevitt, James Lasco, Theodore Bessette, Dan Larson, Gary Becker, Ronnie Nauman, Robert Vhal and Michael O'Vrien. Assisting Den Leaders were Jacque Olsar, Jean Larson, Doris Surrock and Den Leader Coach Alice Bessette.

On June 5, 1971 the Northwest Illinois Council held their Annual Scout Show. This year it was held at the Lakewood Forest Preserve near Wauconda. To finance this show, all the Scout Packs and Troops in the District sold tickets to the show. In the contest for top ticket seller in Pack 192, the first place award went to Theodore Bessette, seller of 44 tickets, 2nd place went to Brett Eastman selling 30 tickets and third place to Mike Ruggles, selling 28 tickets.

Scout show patches were issued to all of the boys participating in the show and ticket selling. Pack 192 received a first place ribbon for its booth at the show.

On June 22, the annual Lad & Dad picnic was held at the Chain-O-Lakes State Park near Fox Lake. The Pack furnished the cold opossum and charcoal fires and the Lad's and Dad's brought along their own food to cook. With all the trails to follow and games for the boys to play, the Fathers ended up doing the cooking. A baseball game was then played.

The boys attending the cookout were Bill Atwood, Craig Lytle, Toni Mingerelli, Mike Dye, Theodore Bessette, David Berchtold, Kenneth Mortenson, Billy Paschke, Rob Crowell, David Dyer, Greg Georges, Mike Connors, David Gade and Bobby Kelley. The "cooks" will remain anonymous.

A pool Party in July and the family Picnic in August is being planned.

Mr. Rush explains that something special is provided by portrait arrangements in various rooms. A grouping of portraits is really a gallery of visual memories that record a family's growth. Individual portraits introduce visitors to the personalities in a family and the Great Occasions they've shared, such as graduations, an important birthday, an anniversary, or a wedding.

Interior designers note that people are becoming more and more interested in individualizing their homes, comments Joseph Rush of B-J Studios. Because of our crowded cities, expanding suburbs, and mass-produced homes and apartments, living space often lacks a special human touch.

The impact is subtle but effective. "I'm in a home not just a house" registers the subconscious impression.

Remember, don't let your "Great Occasion" slip by. Call today for an appointment at the B-J Studios, 395-5554, and make your house a home with beautiful portraits of YOUR memories.

STATUES - Statues by Mr. and Mrs. Bickel

Stephen Bickel removing mold from another creation.

The World of Statuary

Statues, statues, hundreds of interesting and beautiful statues. Everything from a small, hand-sized turtle to a 350 pound Chinese lady. This is what you will find at the LOON LAKE TRADING POST just south of Antioch on route 83.

The fascinating thing about this is that Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Bickel manufacture their concrete statuary themselves. A better way of putting it would be to say that Stephen Bickel is the creator and Loretta Bickel is the decorator.

The art of creating a fine statue is not a fast process, but takes at least three weeks of very careful work. First, the pouring or molding of the statue and the first drying period of two days. Next, curing in a water tank for three days to a week and then air drying from one to two weeks before decorating. Each statue is hand decorated with two undercoats of paint before the final color is added and allowed to dry.

The LOON LAKE TRADING POST now has the largest display of concrete statuary in the state. The price for these fine works varies from 35 cents to $115. They have over a hundred different items: bird baths, fountains, dwarfs, planters, Chinese statues and on and on.

Sometime, when you are heading South on 83, stop in and step into the world of Statuary.

OVER 150 DIFFERENT ITEMS

Bird baths, animals, fountains, and pumps, Chinese lanterns, planters, also antiques and used merchandise.

Grade School site development

"When you can go out the door of the school to something completely different, you've got it," said Dr. Douglas Wade at last Tuesday night's special Antioch Grade School Board meeting summarizing Environmental Education.

Dr. Wade, assistant professor in the Outdoor Teacher Education at Northern Illinois University and David Dopp of the Franz Lipp-Marvin Wehler Partnership attended the meeting to present a proposal for the preservation and utilization of the wildlife area around the new Upper Grade School.

The proposal was accepted later in the meeting and will be put to use immediately.

The area surrounding the grade school contains a natural creek, marshes, woodland and kettle depression. "Sites like this are rare," stressed Dr. Wade saying that he know of only one other comparable site adjacent to a school set up.

Environmental education is relevant to the problems of today. With a gradual development of what we have available at the Antioch Upper Grade School, Dr. Wade says we can make this an area that would enrich the community over-all.

Dr. Wade explains that putting the children outdoors, getting a view of nature removed from the "four walls", is what environmental education is all about. This proposal has been accepted with the intention that it will be of use to all area children from preschool through high age.

Community involvement includes more than just monetary support. Area experts in fish, birds, wild flowers could take this opportunity to share their knowledge with the students.

Mentioned as a possibility for the site would be its becoming a demonstration center used by other schools, groups and educators instructing in wildlife.

In discussing the community involvement, possibilities in this project, Mr. Meyer, superintendent of the Antioch Grade School, said, "I hope that any person or group of people in the community interested in nature and conservation or in the educational aspects in any way will call me. We want total community involvement and overall usage of the development."

David Kropf of the Franz Lipp-Marvin Wehler Partnership of landscape architects presented his company's plan to the Board. This partnership has done similar work at many developments, homes and schools including Beloit College and Stevenson High School. The background of the organization includes the president's having worked for Jens Jensen who landscaped many Chicago parks, homes and estates.

Many of the natural areas around the Antioch Upper Grade School could easily be destroyed by unwise planning of sports fields, pedestrian areas, etc. Proper planning however will preserve the beautiful natural wildlife area.

What the master plan provides is a transitional area between the land surrounding the landscaped area around buildings and playing fields, and the undisturbed natural area. The proposal provides planning that would avoid pollution of the natural stream and destruction of wildlife.

A very important aspect of this plan is the instructing of teachers to take utmost advantage of the area. Environmental education requires that teachers know how to get the children involved. This is one of the areas in which Dr. Wade would offer his help.

Students will actually take part in preparation of the area. They have the manpower and capability for planting, etc. Mainly they will learn to explore the area, keeping logs of wildlife they find. They would use the library to supplement their nature study. Dr. Wade points out that ultimately all aspects of student education are tied in with environment. An example of this is the interesting history of our area resulting in our present surroundings; the life of the Indian, rock change, population.

The master plan divides the school site into several areas: The buildings, sports facilities, and roads; the transitional area, a gradual return to wildlife; and the natural area where the wildlife remains completely undisturbed.

The $5200 contract with the Franz Lipp-Marvin Wehler Partnership consists of preparation of a long-term, phased, total schematic plan for the Upper Grade School Site with the first step, grading, beginning very soon.

Along with taking an inventory of the plants and wildlife already present, they will also plan what would be planted time of planting, amounts of plants, soil, etc.

The upper Grade School has the alternative of doing all or part of the work through its own crew and students. Or the Franz Lipp-Marvin Wehler Partnership will supervise any or all contracted work, analyzing the bids, approving plants and materials. Their fee would be 3% of the contractor's price. They could then offer their expertise and guarantee the plants and material.

Pressure of Seawater Solidifies the Marsh

One-and-a-third million tons of seawater are being loaded on 63 acres of spongy marshland in order to compress it into a firm, solid footing on which to expand the $1.75-million Elizabeth, N. J., marine terminal, now under construction.

The water is lifted out of adjacent Newark Bay and is contained in two reservoirs covering the 63 acres. The reservoirs have sand dikes and are lined with impermeable polyvinyl chloride (PVC) sheeting made by the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company especially for this purpose.

It fills the reservoirs to a depth of more than 20 feet and exerts a pressure of some 1,400 pounds per square foot against the spongy soil beneath the plastic liners.

Toward the end of this year, the weight of that water will have compressed the soil by three or four feet, turning it into solid ground on which warehouses, roads and docks can be built. Then the water will be returned to Newark Bay, the plastic liners removed, and the sand dikes leveled. As a result, 63 acres of usable land will have been added to the new port facility.

CENSUS SURVEY

THIS WEEK

The Bureau of the Census will conduct a survey of employment and unemployment in this area during the week of July 19, Curtis T. Hill, Director of the Bureau's regional office in Chicago announced today.

This survey is conducted monthly by the Bureau for the U.S. Department of Labor in a scientifically designed sample of households throughout the entire United States. The employment and unemployment statistics which are based on the results of this survey are used to provide a continuing measure of the economic health of the Nation.

For example, in May the survey indicated that there were 84.1 million men and women in the civilian labor force; 6.2 percent were out of work as compared with 6.1 percent of the 83.8 million persons in the April labor force. The figures are adjusted for seasonal changes.

Facts supplied by individuals participating in the survey are kept strictly confidential by law, and the results are used only to compile statistical totals.

from the Waukegan and North Shore Chapters of the DAR, the WRC, the Waukegan American Legion Auxiliary, the National Daughters of the Grand Army of the Republic, and the Ladies Auxiliary of World War I Veterans.

Mrs. Panzer will sing "America" with the audience, the district colors will be retired, and District Legion Chaplain George Robbins of Zion will give the benediction.

All American Legion Posts and Units, other participating organizations, are asked to post their flags at 7:30 p.m. so that there may be a massed background display of colors for the reception.

DOCTOR RE-ELECTED TO AAGP MEMBERSHIP

KANSAS CITY, MO.—Adolph N. Berke, M.D., Antioch has been re-elected to active membership in the American Academy of General Practice, the national association of family doctors. Re-election signifies that the physician has successfully completed 150 hours of accredited postgraduate medical study in the last three years. Members become eligible for re-election at the end of the third year following their election to membership. The Academy, the country's second largest national medical association, is the only national medical group that requires members to keep up with medical progress through continuing education.

The Academy, founded in 1947 and headquartered in Kansas City, Mo., has been instrumental in the establishment of a new primary medical specialty in family practice. The new specialty is expected to increase the numbers of family physicians available to serve the public in the future. The Academy's postgraduate education program is the foundation of eligibility for family doctors now in practice who apply for certification in the new specialty.

IRA Hits Mid-Season

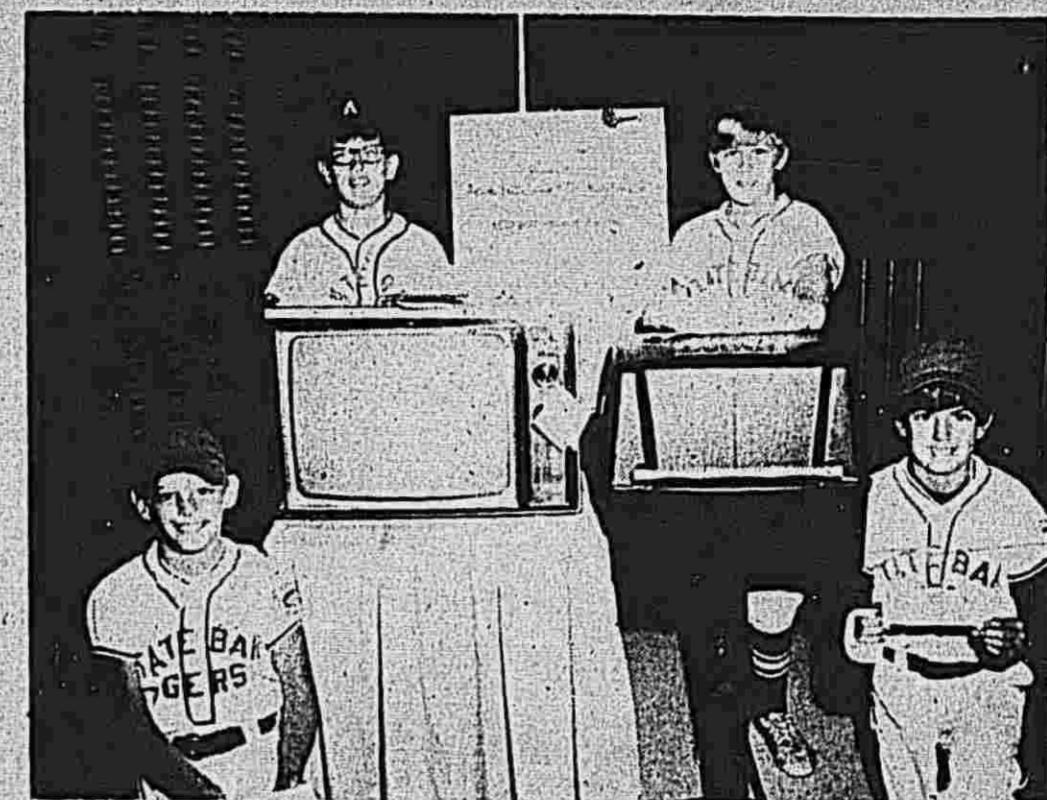

This coming week will see the IRA super modifieds and sportsman stock cars in mid-season championship racing with extra distance in all the feature events.

The super modifieds will race in a 40 lap feature on Wednesday night July 14 at the Raceway Park Blue Island asphalt track where point leader Johnny Reimer will be favored. However Whitey Harris, Lake Villa, won there last week and another win this week could put him back into the top spot at that track. Harris has three feature race wins there and Reimer has only two, with only a 25 point advantage in the standings.

At the Kenosha County Speedway in Wilmot the super modifieds will again try to upset point leader Johnny Reimer but the mid-season honors will go to the sportsman stock cars of IRA. Point leader in this division is Jack Ashenbrenner, Hales Corners who had two feature wins at Wilmot to his credit to top all others but in the 30 lap championship race he will be hard pressed by his close running competitor Wes Eckert of Greenfield, Wis.

On Sunday July 18, the super modifieds return to mid-season Championship racing with another 40 lap feature race at the Lake Geneva Raceway. Here too Harris leads Reimer in the number of feature wins and has the top position in the point standings.

There is no secret that Reimer will be out to top all competition at this track in the mid-season title go because that would give him the point lead at that track too and it would mark the first time this season that any driver has led at all four of the IRA circuit tracks. Reimer is fourth in the standings and it is clear that Al Schill, who won the first feature of the season at Lake

Dave Gutowski, Tom Gutowski, Bret Francke and Terry O'Brien of the Tigers Little League team sponsored by the State Bank are shown with three prizes for the Annual Pancake Breakfast on July 17.

SWIMMERS

TAKE BRENTWOOD

From the opening medley relay to the closing free relay, the Antioch Swim Team dominated the swim meet with Brentwood of Waukegan. The Antioch Swimmers, sponsored by the State Bank of Antioch, piled up an impressive win 200-155.

After winning the medley relay, the Antioch Team swept first and second place in the next four races for a perfect start. Antioch's domination continued as they took both first and second place in seven other races.

Special credit goes to Johnny Schmidt and Bob Dodd who were triple wingers. Both boys swam on the winning medley relay team and later Johnny took firsts in freestyle and back stroke and Bob took firsts in freestyle and butterfly.

Seven swimmers were double winners, scoring first place victories in two races. They were Judy Houghton, Jenny Schmidt, Jack Fields, Mary St. Pierre, Tim Waite, Frank Abderholden, and Mike Muro.

Swimmers with one first place, and second or thirds in other races also added important points. Those swimmers were Carol Berry, Scott Reeves, Dave Berry, Sue Berry, Jody Fields, Barb Dodd and Pat Muro. Additional first place winners were Linda Fields and David Walpole.

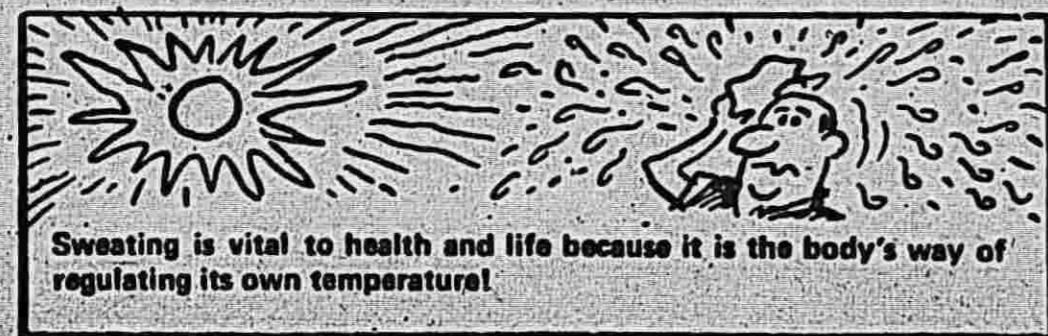

Back-up points in second and third place finishes were added by Jeannie Cilik, Steve Haley, Jerry Schmidt, Charlene Uresy, Rick Sampolinski, Bill Garrels, Denise Shepard, Kim Klopp, Ed Berry, Judy Berry, Greg Shepard, John Kakacek, Sue Solomon, Kit Kakacek, and Sue Hollenhorst.

Antioch's divers John Kakacek, Suzy Berry, Kim Klopp, and Jody Fields added points also.

Here's a new wrinkle on how to look great when you get where you're going: Unpack the clothes you expect to wear first and hang them on the shower curtain rod over the bathtub. Then turn on the hot water and let the steam rise. Wrinkles will fall out after a half hour and natural fabrics will dry quickly and smoothly.

For traveling with a freer mind, the small premium for complete insurance on your luggage, clothes and personal possessions is a great investment.

Sweating is vital to health and life because it is the body's way of regulating its own temperature.

The Antioch Swim Team, each member in his bright red suit, was a standout as they took part in the North Suburban Conference Relays this past weekend.

Coming from behind in the first event, 8 and under boys 100 meter freestyle relay, to place a solid first place, they set the pattern for the rest of the meet. Antioch finished the meet in third place upsetting Lake Forest, Old Willow (Glenview), and Brentwood (Waukegan) in that order. Only Plum Grove (Palatine) and Tennaqua (Deerfield) beat the local team. It was a nip and tuck meet from beginning to end with less than 50 points separating the first four teams. Antioch fielded a relay in every event, using several inexperienced swimmers, but did not disqualify in a single event. Antioch was the only team that did not have any disqualifications.

Fighting back from behind, young John Schmidt overcame the leading swimmer as he anchored his freestyle relay with a tremendous burst of speed for a first place. Helping celebrate their first place were Rick Sampolinski and Teddy and Craig White. Another high point of the exciting meet was the double win by the 11/12 year old girls. This team, consisting of Suzy Berry, Eva Auxier, Lynda Fields and Mary St. Pierre, placed first in both the 100 meter freestyle and backstroke relays. Frank Abderholden, Mike Jaworek, Robby Neuroth and Terry Lear got a sound first in the 14/under 100 meter backstroke relay. Frank and Terry then moved up the 16/under 200 meter breaststroke relay with Pat Muro and Ed Berry to take another first place.

Second place finishes went to: 10/under 100 meter backstroke, Jack Fields, Johnny Schmidt, Scott Gallagher, Bill Garrels; 16/under 200 meter backstroke, Mike Muro, Kevin Walpole, Dave and Ed Berry; 16/under 200 meter girls backstroke, Judy Berry, Kit Kakacek, Barb Dodd, Charlene Uresy; 10/under 100 meter breaststroke, Judy Houghton, Jeannie Cilik, Judi Hayden, Jenny Schmidt; 16/under girls 200 meter breaststroke, Judy Berry, Barb Dodd, Sue Hollenhorst, and Charlene Uresy.

Special mention ought to be made of the very excellent job Craig White and Rick Sampolinski did. Both only 6 years old, these boys swam with Steve Haley and Dave Walpole in the 10/under 100 meter breaststroke, giving the team a third place finish against other teams made up of mostly 9/10 year olds! Fifty-four swimmers and their parents combined to give this fine effort in the relays.

NOTES

DOWN BY THE SEASIDE

With beachgoing season coming up, you're probably looking forward to leaving your footprints in the sands of summertime.

If so, health experts have a word of advice: Keep your eyes on your feet. It's true that going unshod on a beach is one of the best of foot exercises. But there are hazards. One is the danger of cutting yourself on broken glass, a sharp-edged can or other litter. Judicious use of sandals can reduce the risk.

Another common peril is the fungus infection that causes athlete's foot. It's easy to pick up the infection in the public showers and dressing rooms that are part of the beach-holiday scene. Luckily, athlete's foot can be self-medicated without interfering with your enjoyment. A fungicide favored by specialists is Tinactin (cream or solution) until recently available only by prescription but now on sale across-the-counter at drug stores.

Athlete's foot afflicts 75 percent of Americans at some time in their lives. Danger signals include between-the-toes cracking, peeling or itching. Watch for these signs. Treating the infection at the beginning can make the difference between a happy or a spoiled vacation in the end.

Waukegan Speedway

July 10, 1971 — There were two new feature winners at the Waukegan Speedway Saturday night as defending champion Ray Young of Dolton won a close 30 lap main and Mrs Cheyrl Arndt of Milwaukee won her first hobby feature ever.

Young, who won the late model crown at Waukegan in 1969 and 1970, got his first win of the year at Waukegan as he won the trophy dash and then took the feature lead in the fourth lap. For the final 20 laps Bob May of Gurnee, the current point leader, pounded at Young's rear bumper trying for the lead, but Young held out for the win.

In the final lap May hit Young hard enough to push a protective bar into Young's rear tire and smoke billowed from Young's car in the final half lap. Waukegan's Jim Cossman was right behind Young and May just waiting for either to slip.

The race was stopped in the fifth lap after early leader Dave Stirsman of Highland Park crashed nearly head-on into the homestretch wall. Tempers were hot as Stirsman figured Gary Zobel of Mundelein had intentionally run him in the wall.

In the 100 lap race a week previous, these two had collided with Zobel seriously damaging his car. Several other incidents between these two drivers prompted officials to issue warnings to each driver.

There were two serious appearing accidents as the rain clouds hovered over the Speedway. In the first late model heat race Roy Acuff of Chicago jumped over the rear tire of Tom Credit of Melrose Park. Acuff's car became airborne while Credit's car spun. The front bumper of Acuff's car came through the driver's window and door knocking Credit's seat loose. There were no injuries.

In the first hobby stock heat race, Rip Tucker of Park City was rushed to St. Therese Hospital with a painfully sprained ankle and leg cuts as his left leg was trapped between sheet metal and the clutch when the driver's door was ripped off. Tucker later returned to the track on crutches.

Two other cars were involved with Floyd Burdick of Racine being momentarily knocked out.

The hobby feature experienced several delays, but when it was all over Cheyrl Arndt scored a narrow win over Tom Edwards of Zion. Bob Klemm of Gurnee finished third in the race.

Al Gutche of Bristol won the third late model heat race and finished fourth in the 30 lap feature. Holiday feature winners Tom Jones of Northbrook and Carl Major of Chicago finished 5th and 6th in Saturday's main event.

SUNDAY

July 11, 1971 — McHenry's Bob Anzinger became the second new feature winner in the late model class this weekend at the Waukegan Speedway as he won the 30 lap main in near record time. Nineteen cars started the race and they all finished, with 11 of them on the same lap with the leader.

Cheryl Arndt of Milwaukee won the hobby stock feature and she did set a new track record there as well as in the fast heat race. Fourteen of 18 starters finished that race.

Anzinger, who now plans to race regularly at Waukegan on Sunday evenings, outdistanced Ray Young of Dolton in the third heat race and then got a break early in the feature which enabled him to build up a good lead.

Bob Roper of Chicago started pole position and led for the first five laps before Anzinger got by in the first turn. Young was second at that point and kept the pressure on Roper for 10 laps before taking over second spot.

In the next two laps Carl Major of Chicago shot from fourth to second with Young, Roper and Tom Jones of Northbrook switching back and forth for third place money.

Anzinger had a 1/4 lap lead at the checkered with Major in second followed by Roper, Young, Jones, Jim Cossman of Waukegan, Al Gutche and fast-est qualifier, Bob May.

The preliminaries were plenty close with Young winning the dash after a tussle with Major. The second heat race also turned out to be close as Cossman edged out Frank Cabrera of Chicago and Gutche.

In a special backwards-forwards race, Tom Reutter of Gurnee outfoxed ten other cars for the win. The All American Hell Drivers will be at the Speedway next Friday night starting at 8 p.m.

Once a year the Waukegan Speedway leases its facilities to a thrill show and this year the All American Hell Drivers will be taking over the track this Friday July 16.

This thrill program will feature the American Motors products from near-by Kenosha in the usual precision driving plus crashing older cars and the now famous ramp-to-ramp jump.

In addition there will be clown antics to entertain the whole family in the 22 event program.

Tom Anderson Wins

TERRIFIC TOM TOPS IRA WILMOT FEATURE

A new winner wheeled his car into victory circle at the Kenosha County Speedway Saturday night in one of the most impressive drives made by any driver on the IRA Circuit of super modifieds this season. Tom "Terrific" Anderson, Antioch won the 30 lap feature after moving from his 6th starting spot to take 3rd from all Schill, Franksville on the 3rd lap; second from Ron Bergsma, Richmond on the 8th lap and the lead from Roger Otto, Burlington on the next lap.

Two laps later Otto was out of the race with injuries from a broken and shattered transmission. His injuries were treated at the track and he was reported to be OK with only minor cuts and bruises on his legs and knees.

The win by Anderson was no surprise to his fans who have watched him closely miss the front spot several times this season and last season. Point leader Johnny Reimer, Caledonia and defending champion Whitey Harris, Lake Villa were carrying on a three way battle with Bill Bohn, Kenosha until Harris spun and R. Dodd, Waukegan, stalled his car to avoid a crash. Harris couldn't get going until Dodd moved and by that time Harris was a lap down from the field. He raced back to run behind the fourth place finisher, Schill, at the end. Reimer moved up to 3rd but couldn't get close to challenge Bergsma who was three car lengths back of Anderson at the finish.

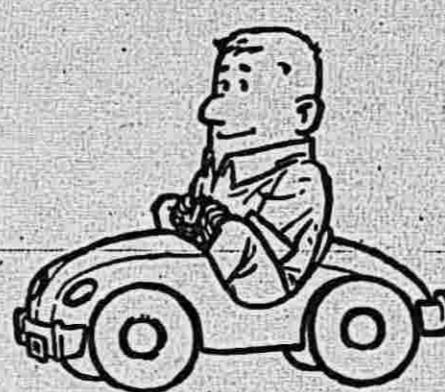

Threatening showers caused a change in the schedule of events and the feature race, honoring the town of Bristol, Wisconsin, was run ahead of the semi-feature. It was the semi-feature however, rather than the attendance which had set new records for the past three weeks, that set a new Wilmot record. The 24 car field was reduced to 13 cars after a record 7th restart before the checkered flag fell to Joe Moulis, McHenry.

Heat races were won by Bob Lawrence, St. Paul, Minnesota; Dick St. John, Cudehey; Jim Cameron, Kenosha; Schill and Paul Cameron, Round Lake.

Once again it was Eddie Loomis, Waukesha setting fast time with the quickest lap recorded this year at Wilmot at 17.48 seconds.

Sportsman stock car point leader Jack Ashenbrenner, Hales Corners, again set fast time and won the feature with heat race wins going to Dale Erdman, Caledonia; Wes Eckert, Greenfield; and Butch Mierendorph, Kenosha. After a double roll over in the semi-feature by Bill Christensen, Franksville, Ron Netuski, Kenosha was declared the winner after he and Erdman racing

collided on the front straightaway. The collision ripped the nearly full gasoline tank out of Ron's car and the fuel had to be burned off the track before the feature race cars could start their event.

Attendance was 3025 and the purse was $3656.00.

HARRIS IN HAIR-RAISING WIN AT LAKE GENEVA

Whitey Harris, Lake Villa, was pressed to hang onto his lead in the point standing at Lake Geneva Raceway on Sunday night as overall point leader Johnny Reimer tried to take away the lead and the top stop in one of the longest wheel to wheel races run so far. Harris took second on the 18th lap and Reimer followed thru as Harris took the lead from Joe Moulis, McHenry.

Then for the next 10 laps Harris and Reimer raced wheel to wheel with Harris finishing only a half car length over Reimer.

The close race was watched by the largest crowd at Lake Geneva this year and possibly the largest ever race crowd.

Heat race winners were Gary Weise; Al Schill; Jim Boehles; and Jim Sullivan. The semi feature was won by Weise.

Sportsman stock car events were won by Wes Eckert who took not only the feature race win but the heat as well while fast time qualifier Jack Ashenbrenner took third in both the heat and the feature. Cal Clark finished second in each event.

The attendance of 3496 contributed to a $2334.00 purse.

CAR CARE

Every time you drive in the rain, your vehicle is subject to a phenomenon called "hydroplaning," especially if most of the tread is worn off your tires.

What happens is that the tires, at certain speeds, usually between 50 and 60 mph, will ride on a film of water rather than on the road surface. When this occurs, it can be dangerous because the driver has no control for steering or braking.

The depth of the water has a lot to do with hydroplaning. But a car is more likely to "water ski" at speeds of between 30 and 40 mph if the water depths exceeds the tire tread depth, and particularly if the road surface is hard and smooth such as asphalt or ice. It is less likely to happen on heavily textured surfaces and if tires have deep treads. This allows water to squirt through rather than build up a wedge in front of each tire.

WOMEN GOLFERS COMPETE

Competition increases as the State Bank Women's Golf League begins its sixth week of play.

In first place with 18½ points is Team No. 2 made up of Dolores Scarpelli, Ruth Pickus, Eugene Nissen, Sally Hawkins and Phyllis Kapischke.

In second place is Team No. 8 with 17 points with Jean Daniel, Sara Fields, Jan Burdick, Irene Hahn and Karen Wilton. And in third place is Team No. 3 with 16½ points. Members of Team 3 are Beverly Dodd, Carol Anderson, Gen Osmond, Marge Solar and Anne St. Pierre.

Only one 90 is as tough as the Suzuki TS-90 Honcho. The Suzuki TC-90 Blazer.

Pick a pair. The best 90's built. Both with a rugged double cradle tube frame and 13 horsepower.

The TS-90 Honcho, built for enduro riding, has 5 speeds, black upswep t muffler with spark arrester. Long travel forks. CCI automatic lube. Motocross-type handlebars. And an optional "Hop-up" kit that boosts the cc's to 100, the hp to 17.

The TC-90 Blazer, for dirt and street has an 8 speed dual-range transmission. Chrome muffler with spark arrester. Bridge-style handlebars, CCI automatic lube. And a high clearance front fender.

So, the real question isn't which 90 to buy, but which Suzuki.

Game of the week

by DAVE RUSH

The Cards did it again, squeaking by with a 3 to 2 victory.

The first inning wasn't too exciting with only Brophy, of the Cards, getting a hit and the Giants garnering only one hit when Fagan cracked a double and threatened with a steal of third only to die there.

Bogaerts, the Giant's pitcher, was pleased with the 2nd inning when he made it three up and three down--and was even more pleased when two teammates, Koch and Burris score in the Giant's half of the inning. Koch got on when he was hit by a pitched ball and Burris garnered a single. The only other base runner was the center fielder, Plechay, as he reached 1st on an error by the short stop.

The third inning for the Cards was a pleasant one as Thompson came up with only one out and worked his way to 1st base with a walk, later scoring. Eder came up with 2 out and one on, cracked a single and soon scored.

Over the next two innings, Sheedio is the only Giant to get a hit and can't put together any kind of a threat.

When the Cards come up one more run is let by. Thompson gets on base with a walk and is knocked around to home as Hass and Eder both smack singles.

Final summary:
 Cardinals, 3 runs, 3 hits, 0 errors
 Giants, 2 runs, 4 hits, 3 errors
 Winning pitcher, Brophy
 Losing pitcher, Bogaerts

Giant Runner heads for second off teammate's hit.
